

Coaches as Role Models

Christopher Stankovich, Ph.D.

Sponsored by The Educational Council of Franklin County

---

- “Coaches as Role Models” is a program designed to equip coaches with critical information that compliments the “x’s and o’s” and traditional first aid issues and helps coaches more successfully help student athletes reach their full potential – on and off the field. The program addresses a number of new topics (i.e., youth sport burnout, performance supplements, hazing boundary concerns, and pay-to-participate school district issues), as well as provides a thorough overview of traditional coaching concerns (i.e. working effectively with parents, playing time issues, and developing successful pre-season meetings).

Check out the web address below for schedules of this course and other courses of interest to coaches and athletic directors!

<http://www.edcouncil.org/programs/safe-drug-free-schools-consortium/professional-development/workshops.php>